electronics and video.*

Techniques and Symbols

General

Performance actions are always indicated in boxed text like this.

Click on / Instruction. Performers can expect either a simple click track or a verbal instruction and a count-in for it.

Click track off.

Strings

Right hand technique:

n.p. normal pressure

x.p. extremo ponticello

x.t. extremo tast

flautando fast bow with very soft pressure scratch noise with no pitch content

semi-scratch pitch with noise content

pizzicato Bartok

mute / damp string

col legno jeté

Left hand technique:

vib. vibrando (always progressive unless explicitly stated)

Red box is for going out from the front of the screen and hiding

Green box is for coming out from behind a screen and posing in front.

Playing Notes

Strings

From the beginning until letter O included the piece must be played by heart together with audio cues. It is not absolutely necessary that the performers know the music exactly to the core, but that they are able to recall the actions from the audio cues. The audio cues will quickly describe the action, count in and count out for each action. There's no possibility of playing the piece sight-reading a score until this point. After this, a score can be provided to read.

Click Track Notes

Each performer has an individual in-ear monitoring track with an individual click track and individual audio cues. For this purpose, the string should wear ONLY the indicated head-phone, as follows:

Violin = Left Earpod

Viola = Right Earpod

Celli = Left Earpod

Double-bass = Right Earpod
